

Flesh And Stone

Bleed from Within

Don't push me over the edge
Living in the chaos you created
To inherit disarray
We won't stand for it
A legacy that was yours to protect
In a war where we can't fight back
Scarlett horizon
Descending into dust
Woven in the fabric of existence
Our extinction is imminent

Why mourn the past when it's the future that's dead
(In flesh and stone)
Wake up, we're losing now the sun won't set
Give me one good reason why I should claw and scratch
To save myself from all your fucking failures

In flesh and stone
Oceans wash away your throne
We're buried underneath it all
Bow before this plague of gold
We're buried underneath it all

We are failing to look within and see the changes we have to make Enough is enough
We must decide our fate now
Blades of ambition forced in the backs of the innocent
We are the last generation

Why mourn the past when it's the future that's dead
(In flesh and stone)
Wake up, we're living now the sun won't set
Give me one good reason why I should claw and scratch
To save myself from all your fucking failures

Oceans wash away your throne
We're buried underneath it all
Bow before this plague of gold
We're buried underneath it all

We're buried underneath it all

Stretched skin over dreams of avarice
It's blood money that put you in the palace

In flesh and stone
In flesh and stone

Stretched skin over dreams of avarice
It's blood money that put you in the palace
