Invisible Enemy

Bleed from Within

Digging into despair

In the crashing waves
Crisis maze, unclear paths and growing graves
I shed my spirit in this prison
You can't kick 'em out if you don't let 'em in
I'm fighting demons, to hell, I descend

All hail
The deafening essence of doubt
All hail
This burden is relinquished

I shed the flesh that houses fear
In this march towards ascendancy

Invisible enemy
You will always be a part of me
I try to hide what's inside
But you will always win
I'm digging into despair

The sickness sinks its teeth back into the earth
Are we the living dead who dared to seek the light?
In the presence of possibility
When the ancient march is through
The walls start to swell, will these wounds ever heal?
I sink into this elixir, remedy

We coexist together, going back and forth
But this time, you won't pull me under

Invisible enemy
You will always be a part of me
I try to hide what's inside
But you will always win
I'm digging into despair

(Now, we will die)

This time I will let you win

We coexist together, going back and forth
But this time you won't pull me under

Crashing waves
Crisis maze, unclear paths and growing graves
I shed my spirit in this prison

You can't kick 'em out if you don't let 'em in
(I'm fighting demons) To hell, I descend
