Bleed from Within

You beg and you borrow

Sit the fuck down I'm not done with you yet
You give and you take and you swallow regret
Call me a failure when I am the one still standing

It feels like the end of the road
You question the purpose but you'll never know
You let it slip a long time ago

It's what you made, when you made a mess of yourself
It's what you take, when you can't give nothing in return

We are the lost, we are the found
Together we can not be bound
We have a voice, let it be heard

Sit the fuck down, I'm not through with you yet
I give and I give, I can't do this anymore
Tell me, do you feel like the victim?

I need your attention, don't say a word
Don't open your mouth, just hear me out
You're searching for something you had all along

Separate
See it in you to let go
Forget and replace what you know
I am not a failure

We are the lost, we are the found
Together we can not be bound
We have a voice, let it be heard
let it be heard

We are the ones still standing, here for a reason, we shall not be mo ved

HEY HEY HEY HEY

We are the lost and the found
We are not the same, it's all very different in the beginning

We are not the same
If it meant nothing to you
It meant nothing to me
