

Damage Done

Bleeding Through

I can't feel, blind to see
The world is killing me, the pain is harder to take
My mind is lost
It's building the emptiness and all the sorrow on me

Go

What's the purpose of agony?
The wretched decay of my morality
Now I'm just a shell of all I used to believe
The dreamer's eyes staring at the sun

There's so much damage done
Turned black and now it's dark, now it's cold
Embrace the suffering that now I hold

I can't feel, blind to see
The world is killing me, the pain is harder to take
My mind is lost
It's building the emptiness and all the sorrow on me

It's all a game

There is so much damage, no place to call home
All leads to death and now I'm gone
Embrace the suffering that now I hold
No escape, no apathy and now I'm done

There's so much damage done
Here's to the wreckage that tears my soul
Embrace the ugliness that I still hold

I can't feel, blind to see
The world is killing me, the pain is harder to take
My mind is lost
It's building the emptiness and all the sorrow on me

Blind to see
Think you are killing me slowly, painfully
Now, my mind is lost
It's building the emptiness and all the sorrow on me

Pain, it's all pain
It's all pain
It's all

There's so much damage done
There's so much wreckage done
There's so much damage done
And now I'm done
I'm fucking done
