

As the daylight falls away and my demons come to play
Will you stay, will you stay?

These hearts fade away
How many times do we destroy each other?
Turn this love into the enemy
These words equal regret
Hole in the chest as we twist the blade
Heads hang from every mistake

So now tell me
Will you stay?

As the daylight falls away and my demons come to play
Will you stay, will you stay?
Will you stay?
Will you stay?

Help me carry this weight
Dragged through the dirt of this passion
Bond of soul with no discretion

Show you the violence of eternity
So you can see what I mean
Digging graves to bury each other
Together now, we sleep

As the daylight falls away and my demons come to play
Will you stay? Will you stay?
Darkness, my friend, we'll meet again
Will you stay with me until the end?

As the daylight falls away and my demons come to play
Will you stay? Will you stay?
