

One Last Second

Bleeding Through

I'm not the solution
Once undeniable
All my fingers are counting the seconds
Spent years just trying to forget
And our ships are sinking
And our bonds are breaking
These are the sounds of everything

Tonight, you turned you walked away
You turned another cheek
Turned back a different face
Tonight, you turned you walked away
You turned another cheek
Turned back a different face
You burned another bridge, was it all worth losing?
Was it all worth losing, when I've already lost you?

You turned you walked away
You turned another cheek
Turned back a different face
You turned, you walked away

I'm not the solution
Once undeniable
All my fingers are counting the seconds
Spent years just trying to forget
And our ships are sinking
And our bonds are breaking
These are the sounds of everything
Everything that we will ever lose
Everything that you will ever lose

Tonight, you turned you walked away
You turned another cheek
Turned back a different face
Tonight, you turned and walked away
You turned another cheek
Turned back a different face
You burned another bridge
Was it all worth losing?
Was it all worth losing
When I've already lost you?

You turned you walked away
You turned another cheek
You turned back a different face
You turned and walked away
