

Heart Attack

Blessing Offor

I know what you think, I know how it looks Like a thief come back to ask for what he already took Back to you again, from God only knows
Knocking on the door that you've been findin' hard to close
Your friends all swear you must be crazy
Or maybe, you're under a spell I cast
But I'm praying, that you see the change from the past
Take me back again, I ask
I'm waitin', waitin', waitin', waitin'
At the end of this hope I have
I'm waitin', waitin', waitin', waitin'
At the edge of a heart attack

So, I let the miles grow between you and me
Let myself pretend that you were someone I didn't need
And I had affairs, freedom, and selfishness
We had some fun, but more often, we just had emptiness
My friends all swear I must be crazy
Or maybe, I'm under a spell you cast
But I'm praying, that you see the change from the past
Take me back again, I ask
I'm waitin', waitin', waitin', waitin'
At the end of this hope I have
I'm waitin', waitin', waitin', waitin'
At the edge of a heart attack
Standing at the edge of a heart attack
Praying that you'll take me back
Standing at the edge of this hope I have And I wouldn't blame you, if you never look back (wouldn't blame you, no, no)
Wouldn't blame you, if you never look back (wouldn't blame you, no, no)
Wouldn't blame you, if you never look back at all (wouldn't bla me you)
Your friends all swear you must be crazy
Or maybe you're under a spell I cast
But I'm praying that you see the change from the past
Take me back again, I ask
I'm waitin', waitin', waitin', waitin'
At the end of this hope I have
I'm waitin', waitin', waitin', waitin', yeah
At the edge of a heart attack
I'm waitin', waitin', waitin', waitin', waitin'
At the end of this hope I have
I'm waitin', waitin', waitin', waitin', yeah
At the edge of a heart attack
