

Puzzle Pieces

Blessing Offor

I heard a knock on my bedroom door
It was as soft as can be
So I came over to see
I wonder how long you've journeyed for
To stand there waiting for me
Patiently waiting for me

We are only puzzle pieces
So beautiful alone
But alone is not where we belong
I never realized my weakness
'Til you stood next to me and I felt strong

We are only puzzle pieces
Strewn across the face of a broken world
Making our way to each other
Praying our way to each other
Hoping our way to each other
It's clear as a mother's call

I made a list of things to thank you for
But it just continues to grow
So I hope you already know
So many tales that I could tell you of
So many scars I could show
But I think you already know

We are only puzzle pieces
So beautiful alone
But alone is not where we belong
I never realized my weakness
'Til you stood next to me and I felt strong

We are only puzzle pieces
Strewn across the face of a broken world
Making our way to each other
Praying our way to each other
Hoping our way to each other
It's clear as a mother's call

There will never be another, no other
No other, no other can be
What you are to me
If there ever is another, another
Another who calls you away
Will you tell them you'll stay with me?

'Cause we are only puzzle pieces
Strewn across the face of a broken world
Making our way to each other
Praying our way to each other
Soon as we reach one another
You will know where you belong

Soon as we reach one another
You will know where you belong
