

This Is Life

Blessing Offor

In the still of the night
In the quiet of the storm
In the moment you're dreaming, bigger than you should
At the top of a fairy swing, take a look around
And tell yourself that nothing will ever bring you down again

Something big is happening
Can you feel it?
Things will never be the same again
This is life, this is love, this is the moment
This is life, this is love, and here you are
This is life, this is love, keeps you going in the dark
From the very first time, you feel the touch, the sound, the spark

Seem the body of a man is had all he can take
It seem the eyes of a girl will never let her heart break
It seem the spirit of a protest, crying out for justice
It seem the soul of a nation will finally hear the call oh, oh
yes

Something big is happening
Can you feel it?
Things will never be the same again
This is life, this is love, this is the moment
This is life, this is love and here you are
This is life, this is love, keeps you going in the dark
From the very first time, you feel the touch, the sound, the spark

This is life
This is life
This is life
This is life

This is life, this is love and here you are
This is life, this is love, keeps you going in the dark
From the very first time, you feel the touch, the sound, the spark

This is life
This is life
This is life
This is life
