

Somebody Else

Blessthefall

Don't let me tell you
What I'm about to
When you crash into me
The pattern repeats
Say you won't but you always do

Now we walk this graveyard in my head
Haunted by the things I never said
Let's not burn the pages yet

'Cause if you run will love still drag you back?
Tell me if you need somebody
Tell me if you need somebody else
I could tear myself apart
To rebuild what we had
But I could never be somebody
I could never be somebody else

I know what your thinking
There must be a reason
You're in when I'm out
We lost what we found
It's tearing me up
When I'm dragging you down

You asked and I tried
Too blind to see through my pride
We don't look we don't hide
The things that make us feel alive

'Cause if you run will love still drag you back?
Tell me if you need somebody
Tell me if you need somebody else
I could tear myself apart
To rebuild what we had
But I could never be somebody
I could never be somebody else

Tear me to pieces
I can't bare to see this
The pattern repeats and you fall from me
