Save Me

Bleu

It's been a long year
nobody found me
nobody wound me up

it's been a long time since I really laughed I guess you had to be there it wasn't funny when all the money dried and fell like leaves on the breeze of a fallen pride a slippery slide of little lies somebody ought to put me down somebody who can come around and help me dig myself an early grave why don't you save me?

why don't you save me from myself?

I'm in a bad way I didn't notice until I focused in and saw the fine print in a cold sweat of a slow gin fizz and there it is I tried to change my ways but like a safety pin, I just get stuck again I need a thicker skin, I need to take it on the chin and grin and then I wonder when somebody's gonna come around somebody who can sit me down and fool me into thinking I'm okay

why don't you save me?
save me

somebody ought to come around
and fool me into thinking I'm okay
why don't you save me?
save me
why don't you save me from myself?

nobody found me
nobody wound me up
