

What Now?

Bleu

did I take you for granted?
did I fuck it all up?
was I never romantic
when you needed my love?
was I off in the distance
when your lips touched mine?
could you read my resistance
when you held me too tight?

'cause you are the only one that I know
who can make me feel lonely and so
what now?
what now?

I could list every action
just to prove that I know
but it isn't a fraction of the love that I owe

'cause you are the only one that I know
who can make me feel lonely and so
what now?
what now?

grab me like you used to
after we fought all night
and were too hoarse to scream anymore
and too tired to slam another door
and too scared to say
what now?
what now?
what now?
