

Giants

Blind Channel

I've been away too down for way too long
I've been falling slowly, just like snow
My heart is like a fountain that overflows
What are men to mountains, I don't know

Everytime you fall you pick yourself up again
When you hit the floor you forget all about the pain
Under pressure you're a diamond
Outnumbered you're a lion
And you're filled up with defiance
And not your judgement fire

Trust yourself and you can move mountains
And you can fight giants...
Ooh, ooh...
And you can fight giants...
Ooh, ooh...

Will this fucking nightmare ever end?
I will become stronger and ending myself

Are you mature enough and whats up
'Till I'm a nape expecting his first
Like I'm a theorist aiming for prophets
Chaining while you fixing on phenomenal
Nothing's impossible, turn me into a motherfucking animal
Why are your bones are like a giant's?
I'm a giant, making the most of life out of this child

Everytime you fall you pick yourself up again
When you hit the floor you forget all about the pain
Under pressure you're a diamond
Outnumbered you're a lion
And you're filled up with defiance
And not your judgement fire
Trust yourself and you can move mountains
And you can fight giants...

You can fight giants...
Ooh...
And you can fight giants!
Pick yourself up again!

So let's go fight giants!
