

Don't You Know

Blind Pilot

Told me the truth, but not only
One night to believe it, one life to get it right
And I heard it shine right through me
Sounded like a diamond waiting down in the mine

And I got the proof, or was it a dream?
You were picking muscles in the shallows of the beach
And holding your hand, curls in her hair
That girl knew the ending isn't just what it seems

You said, "Don't you know? It's all holding us."
You said, "Don't you know? This could be anything you want."
Darling, it was, it was, it was, it was, it was, it was

Smoke on the roof, stayed up all night
Talking through the fate lines what we won't but we might
You whispered the truth, but not only
Morning shadow of the Holy Mountain. Ain't that a sight?

You said, "Don't you know? Your aim will never miss."
You said, "Don't you know? This can be everything you wish."
Darling, it is, it is, it is, it is, it is, it is
