

An Insane's Diary Pt. II

Blind Stare

Finally I can see it all so clear
The lies and contorted reality
It took so long to realize it
But now I am free from their chains

I know I'm all alone
But I don't care
What is the difference
Between a genius and an insane?

I am a reborn genius
One that has waken
The correction in the world's balance
Because I see it all now

I've lost these many years
The lost one who's shed too many tears
Must recall revelation in the dark
For past and future, for all under my mark
I've been drowned, I've been crowned
I've been dead and yet so blind
I have reached the end of my path
The knowledge, the wisdom behind my wrath!

I thought it was all right then
But now I'll put an end to it
They knew that one day I'll find out
There's no way to make it undone

I know I'm all alone
But I don't care
What is the difference
Between a genius and an insane?

I am a reborn genius
One that has waken
The correction in the world's balance
Because I see it all now
