

The One to Blame

Blind Witness

Guess I'm the only one to blame
The more it changes
The more it remains the same
Let me step forwards since I can step back
Life is like a play you cannot match
Guess I'm the only one to blame
The more it changes
The more it remains the same
Looking for a way out once and for all
That doesn't involve the waiting final fall

Looking for a way out once and for all
And I can feel the devil inside of me
Trying to kill everything that's left of me
And I can feel the devil inside of me
Trying to kill everything that's left of me

My limbs are cold
I'm going down below
This is the final fall
Give me the flames I call
My limbs are cold
I'm going down below
This is my final blow
One last breath before I go

I've taken my final blow
And I am ready for the final round down below (down below)

My limbs are cold
I'm going down below
This is the final fall
Give me the flames I call
My limbs are cold
I'm going down below
This is my final blow
One last breath before I go

Guess I'm the only one to blame
The more it changes
The more it remains the same
Let me step forwards since I can step back
Life is like a play you cannot match
Guess I'm the only one to blame
The more it changes
The more it remains the same
Looking for a way out once and for all
Once and for all
