

Sidewinder

Blindside

i see everything you break every vow every promise you make you've got this desire to fake and then you break

stop get away from me no, i don't want you you are looking for my breaking point but i won't give it to you

God gave me glasses to see clearer he threw away my rearview mirror but you act so superior you are nothing don't want to get near you
