

ANTHEM PART 3

Blink-182

Everything that we've tried
We'll keep waking up to that light
We'll see rising of a new tide
We are starting up a new life
When your head is hanging too low
When your heart is 'bout to explode
You can make it anywhere, go
There's no fear when you get here, give up that ghost

When your dreams they seem like they're dead
Like a pounding deep in your head
When your job has gone to deep shit
If you've fallen off of that list
When you're clenchin' both of your fists
Like you aimed and then you just missed
Let the record show that you're fixed
Don't you give up now, just get up and resist

This time, I won't be complacent
The dreams I gave up and wasted
A new high, a new ride
And I'm on fire
My old shit ends here tonight

And after you had the time of your life
Flat-lined and led toward the light
You'll despair the wreckage and find
No one gave a fuck that you died

This time, I won't be complacent
The dreams I gave up and wasted
A new high, a new ride
And I'm on fire
My old shit ends here tonight

It's my head, it's my mind
All made up, it's alright
If I fall on some nails
If I win or set sail
I won't fail
I won't fail
