

Carve Out A Heart

Blitzkid

i've cut too deep this time now there is no chance left for all this blood to dry enshrined your picture in my red such a sick elegance i've found there in your eyes it takes too long for regret to be soothed by my knife and i'll wait for you and i'll be fine and slash at my pain with pride i'll let you tell me lies alone and carve out a heart to cry quiet seems loud today and i'd beg for one last kiss now misery's so misplaced and it has to be like this you were my one true end now i sit here in disgrace my wounds shall bleed again and this flesh will bare your name

and slash at my pain with pride

i'll wait for you and i'll be fine
and slash at my pain with pride

and slash at my pain with pride
