

Dangerous

Blondshell

They're my friends
And I'm scared of them
I'm in my head
Watching her mouth
Wondering what she thinks of what I'm talking about

I'm trying new things out
Is it obvious?
Seeing it in the hips
When I take the second sip
I'm trying new things out

And it's so dangerous
Forming an attachment to something
Know that every time I love it might pull the rug out
I know
When I leave the house
Anything can take me down

They're my friends
And they're in my bed
And it feels good
When they want me
Then I'm too much
Feels like something's in my teeth

I'm trying new things out
Is it obvious?
See it shaking in my lips
When I take another hit
I'm trying new things out

It's so dangerous
Forming an attachment to something
Know that every time I love it might pull the rug out
And I know
When I leave the house
Anything can take me down

Asking you did I bring the vibe down
After the hangout
He and I made out
And I think I hate it
But I initiated
Feeling all the shame
I wanna take a break
I wanna take a night off
But they'll forget if I'm gone
I wanna have a drink
Emotional vacation
I don't know moderation
I just know enough to know
That I don't know a thing
And I want someone to take the blame

And it's so dangerous

Know that every time I love it might pull the rug out
And I know
Anything can take me down
Anything can take me down
