

World of Secrets

Blood On The Dance Floor

I heard you call my name
When you said your prayers
No one is listening
No one really cares
Your world is so small
Your fire burns so dim
But your secrets are safe with me
All of your greatest sins

The calming feeling blows away in the wind
You feel it crumble, fall apart from within
When nothing matters consequences are shit
No one to hear you and no one is listening
Pick up the pieces just to drop them again
We gazed upon your light, extinguished it
Living on your knees, submit to me
All of your secrets are safe indeed

Your knees weary, your life to submit
Confessing your sins but they do not exist
It slowly burns and starts to decay
Let me in and forever I'll stay

Let me in
To your world of secrets (world of secrets)
I'll hear your sins (your sins)
And I'll dance through your world of secrets

Confess my children every lie you've told
Every chance you had to break the mold
I can smell the fear within your heart
Call my name again and your guilt departs
For I am just the man the greatest lie
Gazing of thrones of long goodbyes
There is no life or death or consequence
Just an eternities of fraudulence

Your knees weary, your life to submit
Confessing your sins but they do not exist
It slowly burns and starts to decay
Let me in and forever I'll stay

Your knees weary, your life to submit
Confessing your sins but they do not exist
It slowly burns and starts to decay
Let me in and forever I'll stay

Let me in
To your world of secrets (world of secrets)
I'll hear your sins (your sins)
And I'll dance through your world of secrets

Let me in
To your world of secrets (world of secrets)
I'll hear your sins (your sins)
And I'll dance through your world of secrets

Let me in
To your world of secrets (world of secrets)
I'll hear your sins (your sins)
And I'll dance through your world of secrets