

Somewhere in Between

Blood Orange

And in the middle of your life, could you have taken some more time?

And if it's nothing like they said, it's somewhere in between
So I surrender to being just a body with tired limbs
When the world is in your hand you can't be inside of it

Light was just for hope and it's keeps flickering
I just want to see again (Oh)
Oh (I just wanna see again)

And in the middle of your life, could you have taken some more time?

And if it's nothing like they said, it's somewhere in between

Light was just for hope and it's keeps flickering
I just want to see again (Oh)
Oh

Know I can't pretend to know everything ends
I just want to see again (Oh)
I just want to see again

I just want to see again
Hard to look at you

I just want to see again