

Something To Numb The Pain

Blood Youth

My soul is forever broken

You deserve it all
Everything that happened
You always point the finger, never claim the blame
Shook from what I see you were used to this shit
I wanna step outside of this
I wanna spit out the bad taste

My soul is forever broken
Forever broken

Isolation fix
Never feeling welcome in my own skin
You can point and laugh at me all you want
Look away, I am reborn

My soul is forever broken

Something to numb the pain

Something to numb the pain (numb the pain)
No one is waiting for you
Cut my throat, let me go
Something to numb the pain (numb the pain)
Cause we can see right through you
Cause we can see right through you

Cause we can see right through you
Cut my throat, please let me go
Cut my throat, please let me go

I lost two days, broke my teeth, ignored the rise
Left underneath, and fuck the signs why
Keep it closer, just pray for a sound
The light of the day still can't be found

Something to numb the pain (numb the pain)
No one is waiting for you
Cut my throat, let me go
Something to numb the pain (numb the pain)
Cause we can see right through you
Cause we can see right through you
Cause we can see right through you
Cause we can see right through you

I lost my way back to hell
I lost my way back to hell
Back to hell
