

Ever Burning Flame

Bloodbound

The power of the ever burning flame

My demons creeping up on me
For every step I'll take you'll see
In sickness and in health I'll be
In my lonely grave
The heavens watching over me
My sanity your destiny
When darkness rolls its cover
Fade to black again

Follow the red guiding star on your way
Lay her to bed, evil spawn
Enter the realm, break of day fade away
Come set this world on fire

Where the wind of fate will turn
Where the shoreline breaks the sea
Over canyons and the hills I drown my sorrow
When the wings of destiny
Shed a light so I can see
The power of the ever burning flame

My shadow hanging over me
I'm blinded now I cannot see
In darkness face my enemy
I'll fight I'll be brave
For angels watching over me
My destiny your sanity
When darkness folds its cover
Shine a light again

Follow the red guiding star on your way
Lay her to bed, evil spawn
Enter the realm, break of day fade away
Come set this world on fire

Where the wind of fate will turn
Where the shoreline breaks the sea
Over canyons and the hills I drown my sorrow
When the wings of destiny
Shed a light so I can see
The power of the ever burning flame

One moment of weakness
Surrounded by the creatures
One cold night of winter
Stars in the sky

Where the wind of fate will turn
Where the shoreline breaks the sea
Over canyons and the hills I drown my sorrow
When the wings of destiny
Shed a light so I can see
The power of the ever burning flame
The power of the ever burning flame
