

Raise The Dawn

Bloodflowerz

a shooting star, shining so far, enlightens the dark night a melody enchanting me, a kiss from heaven if i'd know how i'd do it now, i would change the world outside i reach for the stars but they are so far my heart cries for the moon i paint pictures everyday, draw a perfect way i know there'll come the day when dreams are real open your heart and you see all the secrets eyes can't see open your heart for the dawn where shadow and light is one a virgin tree inside of me is bearing roses i sing this song for all weak and all strong, for those who went wrong every night and day there's a silent prayer, this stillness is a chance romance is no misery in reality all dreamers burn in the flames of passionate hearts
