

She Ain't Got No Legs

Bloodhound Gang

Baby. Yeah. The first time I saw you darlin', I knew I was in love. Tell her Daddy. The way you took your wheelchair up that handicap ramp. It's a mind blower. But now baby I miss ya, I miss ya. I miss all the times we played Marco Polo in the pool. Oh yeah. Hide and Go Seek beneath the sheets. Oh yeah. And just the smell of the oil in your wheelchair.

I remember the day I saw you hobblin'
A Weeble wobblin' ah you had a problem
You didn't have any legs just a smile and some stumps
No smelly feet a torso to hump
No baby love yeah that's what we'd be makin'
Ride you like a Sit and Spin 'til your stumps started achin'
Spin you around yeah roll you near
Turn you upside down to hold my beer

You ain't got no legs but I love you just the same oh baby
You ain't got no legs but I love you just the same

They say nothin' beats a great pair of legs. But somehow baby, the day you walked out of my life, there's nothin' I wanted more than, than, for you to come crawlin' back to me.

When we started goin' together people said they couldn't believe it
That I could be so happy with a quadriplegic
We would wake up real early and you could make me some eggs
Girl I didn't care if you ain't got no legs I loved you for you and you loved me for me
Oh yeah wasn't really hard for those more fortunate to see
That the first time we made love it was such a wonderful feeling
The way the suspension wires held you 'cross the ceiling
When you rolled out of my life my heart just broke
I can still hear the noise of the squeaks in your spokes

You ain't got no legs but I love you just the same oh baby
You ain't got no legs but I love you just the same

You ain't got no legs but I love you just the same oh baby
You ain't got no legs but I love you just the same

You ain't got no legs
