

The End We Start From

Bloodred Hourglass

As the dimming of our light occurred
It's me against the world with a lesson learned
Burned forever underneath the rain
Tore myself apart to give you all that I could give
If forgiveness somehow let me off the hook
I feel my forever would still belong to you
Engraved for something so much more
I bleed for something I could not hold
But maybe all I need is patience and belief

If there's something I could do
Something I could say
Would you still let me know?
Could you tell me so
Maybe one day we could find the place
Where our hearts are not supposed to break
Where our hearts are not supposed to break

For the end we start from
Like a miracle sun, a dedicated one
You kissed me the burden and catastrophe
I lost the trust to the process
With scars in the mindset killing all polarity
This is the end we start from
Defy the loss to process
So we can trust the process
To rise back up for the better days
From the end we start from

Maybe one day we could find our place
Where our hearts are not supposed to...

If there's something I could do
Something I could say
Would you still let me know?
Could you tell me so
Maybe one day we could find the place
Where our hearts are not supposed to break
It was really truly something so special
I was only dreaming of
I never lost those feelings, my treasure
Forever I'm here waiting for
And maybe one day we could find our place
Call this loss the end we start from
