

Daylight

Bloom

At any time
At any place
The ones we love can be taken away
At any time
At any place
The ones we lost can't be replaced

Is this our final embrace?
The last time I see your face?
I can't bare to lose you (I can't bare to lose you)
When I still have so much left in me to say

Because everyone dies
With no reason why
Will you come home tonight
Or be gone by daylight?
We can't always peer through lies
And see what's really inside
Will they be alright?
Will I be alright?

Have I done enough?
Have I showed them love?
And will it matter when it comes for us?
Have I done enough?
Have I showed them love?
Before it's too late

I can't seem to find sleep
Wonder when the boat will take me
I can't seem to find sleep
Wonder when the boat will come and take me
Or depart with the rest of my family
If it comes for someone then I hope it's me

Because everyone dies
With no reason for why
Will you come home tonight
Or be gone by daylight?
We can't always peer through lies
And see what's really inside
Will they be alright?
Will I be alright?

Fake smiles
Bloodshot eyes
We tell ourselves that we'll be alright
They look in from the outside
We ask ourselves if we even tried

Fake smiles
Bloodshot eyes
We tell ourselves that we'll be alright
They look in
From the outside
And we pretend we're fine

How am I supposed to know
If this goodbye will be our last?
How am I supposed to know
If this goodbye will be our last?
