

Torn Up

Blossoms

I'm so torn up with myself
I can hardly look at myself
I keep this weight on my shoulders
This just might be my cry for help
This can't be good for my health
I might forget when I'm older
Will you keep your eye on me please?
Will you keep your eye on me please?

I'm so torn up in my head
I can barely get out of bed
I can't keep faking a smile
Your words hang on by a thread
Get yourself together instead
I'm fine every once in a while, yeah
Will you keep your eye on me please?
Will you keep your eye on me please?
Will you keep your eye on me please?
Will you keep your eye on me please?

I'm so torn up with myself
I can hardly look at myself
