

Did You Drive

The Blow

Was the air so hot Was there an ocean of crackling ice
You're all ice
What got inside
Did you find the thought?
And did you guess it right
Were you in it nearly all of the time?
And did your blood run through like orange juice
And did you find yourself there
And did the clothes that you wore surround you like a cloud
And did you get the chance to float?

Was the air so hot
Did you look up and see light in the sky
And did you drive right through
Make a streak through every night
And did you feel the flow
Did you feel the flow?
Can you feel it still?
Did you bring some home? Did you go?
Did the people bump against you
And surround you like a cloud
And did you see right through?
And did you look into a mirror that was foggy with a cloud
And did you find your same old self?
