

The Sun Behind the Rain

Blowsight

I don't believe you, I don't need you, never wanted to know
I made a path to move away from everything all alone
The disillusional denying, they've been proving you wrong
You treated me and my surrounding like we didn't belong

Who are you to tell me the past I cannot remember?
Who are you to show me the past I want undone?
Who are you, afraid of the messages I send her?
I'm still the same, I'm still the sun behind the rain

I see the fuse I see the fire see the future ahead
I light it up and paint the whole fucking society red
There is a time there is a place for everything, am I wrong?
If I would tell you there's a place where you will never belong

Who are you to tell me the past I cannot remember?
Who are you to show me the past I want undone?
Who are you, afraid of the messages I send her?
I'm still the same, I'm still the sun behind the rain

The breeze felt cold, and my mind was full of yesterday
With the taste of Innis and the smell of cigars
I was watching, you were dancing, Cultural, yet simple.

I'm still the sun behind the rain

Who are you to tell me the past I cannot remember?
Who are you to show me the past I want undone?
Who are you, afraid of the messages I send her?
I'm still the same, I'm still the sun behind the rain
