

Ears Bleeding

BLP KOSHER

It's 5 AM in the morning your threatening to leave
And every time I tell you how I feel you scream at me
And I hate living off dopamine that's temporary
My ears are bleeding tell me I don't need you you need me

About to burn what's in the pot even if it's gold
I don't care I'll never sell my soul
I be gleeking on this microphone I'm spitting check the viral load
I manishewitz my Styrofoam that glizzy like my xylophone
I left my AirPods there I got tha lo
I had to shape shift cause we be ducking troll
I know she a horse back rider she a motherfucking hoe
I don't wanna bag her cause I got so much better

She's so different
I love the difference and I can never see myself with nobody else
We started off as friends
But now I can't see the end
I can never see myself with nobody else
With nobody else
With nobody else

It's 5 AM in the morning your threatening to leave
And every time I tell you how I feel you scream at me
And I hate living off dopamine that's temporary
My ears are bleeding tell me I don't need you you need me
