

Let Her Go

Blu Cantrell

Why don't you just keep it real
Let her know just how you feel
If you love her let her go, her go
When you met her it was good
You did everything you could
If you love her let her go, her go

You out here every night
Living your secret life
While you keep her at home
On lockdown so she's all alone
One day you at the crib
Next day you start to trip
I know it gets old,
why can't you just stay home
You need to just let her go

All of this time
You played with her mind
She gave you her love
And you threw it away

Why don't you just keep it real
Let her know just how you feel
If you love her let her go, her go
When you met her it was good
You did everything you could
If you love her let her go, her go

Your girl don't even know
How you do her wrong
She don't even know
That you are here out of control
She thinks you're all in love
She thinks you're so caught up
Damn it's a shame, the way you play these games
You need to just let her go

All of this time
You played with her mind
She gave you her love
And you threw it away

Why don't you just keep it real
Let her know just how you feel
If you love her let her go, her go
When you met her it was good
You did everything you could
If you love her let her go, her go

That's why you show her you love her if it's for real (if it's for real) that's why you show her you need her
That's what she needs

You show love
You give love

You show love
You give love
