

Leave Room For A Miracle

Blue October

The larger the fight, the harder the fall
Raised in a wild town
Somebody broke him, never a win
A love that he lost out on

But he's laughing out loud now, baby
Drifting on by now, honey, how?
How does he always seem to say?

Leave room for a miracle, baby
Leave room for a miracle
Leave room for a miracle, baby
Leave room for a miracle

If you wish on a star, the farther it falls
Every once in a while now
You'll never grow old, and you'll never let go
You're still waving a light around now

Laughing out loud now, baby
Drifting on by now, honey, how
How he always seem to say

Leave room for a miracle, baby
Leave room for a miracle
Leave room for a miracle, baby
Leave room for a miracle

Leave room for a miracle, baby
Leave room for a miracle
Leave room for a miracle, baby
Leave room for a miracle
Leave room for a miracle, baby
Leave room for a miracle
Leave room for a miracle, baby
Leave room for a miracle
