

The Machine

Blue Öyster Cult

I remember the first time I saw you
I couldn't believe my own eyes
You were cold to the touch but I needed you so much in my life

Oh you showed me a world full of wonder
Your voice held all of the answers I sought
When I lost my way you never lead me astray or so I thought

But when I take a look around and everybody's looking down
And I think they're nothing like me
And when I tried to turn you off you just remind me you're the boss
And I cave
I'm a slave to the machine

Now we're living the dream
Eyes never leaving the screen
Floating away in a stream
To the machine

You're the first thing I see every morning
Your soft glow bids me good night
You sing to me and in darkness you bring me the light

You send a little chill through my body
Just to remind me you're there
If I left you behind I would move mountains to find you anywhere

But when I take a look around and everybody's looking down
And I think they're nothing like me
And when I tried to turn you off you just remind me you're the boss
And I cave
I'm a slave to the machine

Now we're living the dream
Eyes never leaving the screen
Floating away in a stream
To the machine

But when I take a look around and everybody's looking down
And I think they're nothing like me
And when I tried to turn you off you just remind me you're the boss
And I cave
I'm a slave to the machine

Now we're living the dream
Eyes never leaving the screen
Floating away in a stream
To the machine

Now we're living the dream
Eyes never leaving the screen
Floating away in a stream
To the machine