You Should Know

Blue Rodeo

When you run out of things to say
And there's clouds in your mind
Everything falls away
And you're wasting all your time
People can be so cruel girl
They pretend that they care
We can always fix your world
‘Cause you know I'll be there
You should know you're always on my mind

When the rain it keeps coming down
And it's washing away your smile
You're running around your town
Trying to hide out for a while
Everywhere you look you see
Only shadows and pain
You can always lean on me
Get you moving again
You should know you're always on my mind

When you feel you can't walk one more mile
You just need a friend to walk you down the road a while

When you run out of things to say
And there's clouds in your mind
Everyone falls away
They were wasting all your time
People can be so cruel
People can be so cruel
Everything that happens now will fade away with time
You should know you're always on my mind
You should know you're always on my mind
