This Could Be Love

Blue

Life is a freeway
Sometimes we switch lanes
Keep driving with me tonight

Let's fly away
We don't have to stay
Just say that we're leaving tonight
Tonight

Just say you'll trust me with your life
Let's close our eyes, turn off the light
This could be love worth dying for

This could be love between you and I
The kind of love that keeps us alive
Just give me yours and I'll give you mine
This could be love
This could be love tonight

Let's make our memories
Live out our wildest dreams
Let's go where the wind blows tonight
That's right

Just say that you trust me with your life
No going back, no end in sight
When this could be love worth dying for

This could be love between you and I
The kind of love that keeps us alive
Just give me yours and I'll give you mine
This could be love
This could be love tonight

Oooh
This could be love tonight

Just say you'll trust me with your life
No going back, no end in sight
When this could be love worth dying for

This could be love between you and I (this could be love tonight)
The kind of love that keeps us alive (keeps us alive)
Just give me yours and I'll give you mine
This could be love
This could be love tonight

This could be love
This could be love
This could be love
This could be love tonight
