

Where I Come From

Blue

I wish this day would disappear
I wish that you were standing here
To see me breaking apart
I wish that you would hold me tight
I wish that you could make this right
Instead of hating me now

I'm not the first to be wrong
Won't be the last to sing this song
You are the place where I belong
I just forgot where I come from

Being a fool can make you wise
But losing you is too high a price
If I come home again
Would you be there?
If I come home again
Would you be there?

Sorry, love, two words I've broken
It's time to make amends
Not giving up, and I'm not gonna lie to you
'Cause honesty can't pretend

I'm not the first to be wrong
Won't be the last to sing this song
You are the place where I belong
I just forgot where I come from

God knows I tried but I fall down
Getting so high, I left you out
I'm not saying I wasn't wrong
I just forgot where I come from
Yeah
Ooh

I'm not the first to be wrong
Won't be the last to sing this song
You are the place where I belong
I just forgot where I come from
