

You Should Know

Blue

It was still warm, late September
And the summer was ending
In a perfect haze, but now those days are gone
Do you still remember
When nothing scared us
And the memories would never fade?

Over and over, reliving the moment
I told you that I couldn't stay

It was always over before it started
I left you alone with the broken-hearted
You should know I'm sorry
I never meant to let you down
I was too young to believe forever
But there was pure love underneath the pressure
You should know I'm sorry
I never meant to let you down

Oh-oh, oh-oh, oh-oh
You should know that
Oh-oh, oh-oh, oh-oh
'Cause you should know I'm sorry
I never meant to let you down

So in love, it was all consuming
It was so confusing
I was inside out, and I still doubt myself

Over and over, reliving the moment
I told you that I couldn't stay

It was always over before it started
I left you alone with the broken-hearted
You should know I'm sorry
I never meant to let you down
I was too young to believe forever
But there was pure love underneath the pressure
You should know I'm sorry
I never meant to let you down

Oh-oh, oh-oh, oh-oh
You should know that
Oh-oh, oh-oh, oh-oh
'Cause you should know I'm sorry
I never meant to let you down

Over and over, reliving the moment
I told you that I couldn't stay

It was always over before it started
I left you alone with the broken-hearted
You should know I'm sorry
I never meant to let you down
I was too young to believe forever
But there was pure love underneath the pressure
You should know I'm sorry

I never meant to let you down

Oh-oh, oh-oh, oh-oh

You should know that

Oh-oh, oh-oh, oh-oh

'Cause you should know I'm sorry

I never meant to let you down

Oh-oh, oh-oh, oh-oh

You should know that

Oh-oh, oh-oh, oh-oh

'Cause you should know I'm sorry

I never meant to let you down
