

Orange In The Sun

Blues Traveler

Never you mind at the storm, honey
Never you mind the lightning
Dawn gonna make the day warm, honey
Sun gonna make the day bring

Hold you till it comes
Just water falling down
The orange in the sun
Never makes a sound

Never you mind at the noise, honey
The man and the moon and the stars
Are putting away all their toys, honey
The lightning back in their jars

Hold you till they're done
Just water falling down
The orange in the sun
Never makes a sound
As it shines all around

Rise and awake in the morning, honey
Wash away sleep from your eye
Keep any dreams that you
Might have made, baby
Little one please don't you cry

Hold you till the dawn
Just water falling down
The orange in the sun
Never makes a sound
As it shines all around

Take away all of the darkness, honey
Remove any nightmares power
Break any curse with me, won't you honey?
By the light of the morning hour

Hold you till the dawn
Just water falling down
The orange in the sun
Never makes a sound

Every night has to end, honey
Every storm has to pass
You don't have to pretend, honey
That a tear in the rain has to last

Hold you till the dawn
Water falling down
Never makes a sound
