

Back for blood

BlutEngel

We've been sleeping for a thousand years
But now we're awake (awake, awake)
We feel the hunger and we feel the lust
So we are going on a hunt again
Nothing has changed and we need the blood
So we are hiding in the night
We are looking for our prey (prey)
To satisfy our greed

And the sun goes down
On a blood red sky
We are damned to live forever
We are damned to live in the night
The pale moon is our companion
We will never see the light
We will never see the sunlight
We will never feel the warmth
On our skin

We're heading to the future but we're afraid
Of what we will see
We are cursed with eternal life
But who wants to live forever?
When we lose the ones we love
When we will be alone again
Maybe it's better to leave this world
Maybe it's better
Better to die

And the sun goes down
On a blood red sky
We are damned to live forever
We are damned to live in the night
The pale moon is our companion
We will never see the light
We will never see the sunlight
We will never feel the warmth
On our skin

We are damned to live forever
We are damned to live in the night
The pale moon is our companion
We will never see the light
We will never see the sunlight
We will never feel the warmth
On our skin

We will never see the sunlight
We will never feel the warmth on our skin
