

Nothing Left

BlutEngel

So is this all there is?
Nothing more to expect
Chasing footsteps through the world
And take whatever you get
Is it enough to act
Like you know what to do?
Is it enough to take
The first thing heard as truth?

It's just our lives we're faking
It's just ourselves we're breaking

With nothing left to leave here
And nothing left you could feel
And nothing left to break you
Nobody's gonna take you home
And nothing left for you to feel
There's no one left who could be healed
Nobody's left to be loved
There's nothing left, you're all alone

It's just our lives we're faking
It's just ourselves we're breaking

And then you realize your life has slipped away
While you try to be someone that you'll never be
But your time runs out and things don't feel the same
And you try to find someone else to blame

With nothing left to leave here
And nothing left you could feel
And nothing left to break you
Nobody's gonna take you home
And nothing left for you to feel
There's no one left who could be healed
Nobody's left to be loved
There's nothing left, you're all alone

It's just our lives we're faking
It's just ourselves we're breaking

With nothing left to leave here
And nothing left you could feel
And nothing left to break you
Nobody's gonna take you home
And nothing left for you to feel
There's no one left who could be healed
Nobody's left to be loved
There's nothing left, you're all alone

You're all alone, you're all alone
You're all alone, all alone
You're all alone, you're all alone

And nothing left for you to feel
There's no one left who could be healed
Nobody's left to be loved

There's nothing left, you're all alone
You're all alone
All alone
You're all alone