

Starkeeper

BlutEngel

We are the keepers of the stars
We light up the sky
When darkness falls into your life

We will always be there
We will hold you when you fall
We light up your life
When you can't find your way back to yourself

When you are on your knees
Because you can't take the pain

We have to close your eyes
And you will find the way

When all the words are spoken
And everything seems to fail

Just confide in your dreams
We won't let you down