

This life, you say, is slowly driving you insane
This life, you say, and all the people, hurt you every day
You are falling into a deep black hole
And I'm the only one who catches you when you reach the ground

All my life I tried to be strong
All my life I tried to be your guardian angel
But now I'm on my knees I confide in you
I want you to hold me close just for a second
All my life I tried to be strong
All my life I tried to be your guardian angel
But now I'm on my knees I confide in you
This sadness is killing me, killing me inside

I dry your tears, I chase the bad dreams away
I give you hope, I will always listen to you
You are falling into a deep black hole
And I'm the only one who catches you when you reach the ground

All my life I tried to be strong
All my life I tried to be your guardian angel
But now I'm on my knees I confide in you
I want you to hold me close just for a second
All my life I tried to be strong
All my life I tried to be your guardian angel
But now I'm on my knees I confide in you
This sadness is killing me, killing me inside

All my life I tried to be strong
All my life I tried to be your guardian angel
But now I'm on my knees I confide in you
This sadness is killing me, killing me inside
