If you said it, and said it clearly
It would be heard by me
If you felt it, felt it in your heart
If your mind inside was like mine
You would find and see me
You would be welcome in my dreams
You would be welcome...

We have argued till we are black and blue Nothing to say this is what I tell you Happiness is as freedom
It is welcome
If you saw this,
You would know this is the truth

All of your hopes inside are lonesome
Without me, inside of you
I feel the world calling - I will wait for you
Oh, how you are dear to me
If you knew this you would see, this is the truth
You would be welcome to my dreams
You would be welcome...

No man can save the world, it takes a woman No woman can save the world, it takes a man Welcome...

You'd be welcome
No man welcome
No woman welcome
Mmm no woman, no man
