

Courage

bôa

Who makes the sun shine so bright?
Who makes everything feel all right?
You do - do
Who can change the dark to light?
Fight for what you know is all right
You do, you do

Courage

Is the name of the game that I play for
Is the hope that has died that I pray for
Is the one that I know I'll die for

Hopeful

All the things that you said that you took away
And the light that you gave that is turning gray
And the things that I know I'm here for

I am the light, I am the soul
I am the one that is willing to fight for what I know
I am the light, I am the soul
I am the one that is willing to fight for...

Conscience throws the gauntlet down
Makes them see you as a clown
You know you wear the crown
Fortune favours those who try
Holds your heart and gives you time
You will see a way through

Courage

Is the name of the game that I play for
Is the hope that has died that I pray for
Is the one that I know I'll die for

Hopeful

All the things that you said that you took away
And the light that you gave that is turning gray
And the things that I know I'm here for

I am the one, I know the soul
I am the one that is willing to go the way
I am the one, I am the soul
I am the one that is willing to go the way
I am the one, I know the soul
I am the one that is willing to go the way

Courage (I am the light, I am the soul)

Is the name of the game that I play for
(I am the one that is willing to fight for what I know)
Is the hope that has died that I pray for
Is the one that I know I'll die for

Courage (I am the light, I am the soul)

Is the name of the game that I play for
(I am the one that is willing to fight for...)
Is the hope that has died that I pray for
Is the one that I know I'll die for

Courage (I am the light, I am the soul)

Is the name of the game that I play for
(I am the one that is willing to go the way)

Is the hope that has died that I pray for
Is the one that I know I'll die for
