

Welcome

bôa

If you said it, and said it clearly, it would be heard by me
If you felt it, felt it in your heart
If your mind inside was like mine, you would find and see me
You would be welcome in my dreams, you would be welcome...

We have argued, 'til we are black and blue
Nothing to say, this is what I tell you
Happiness is as freedom, it is welcome
If you saw this, you would know this is the truth

All of your hopes inside are lonesome, without me inside of you
I feel the world calling - I will wait for you
Ohh, how you are dear to me
If you knew this, you would see, this is the truth
You would be welcomed in my dreams, you would be welcome...
Yeah

No man can save the world, it takes a woman
No woman can save the world, it takes a man
Welcome, oh, welcome, yeah

You'd be welcome
No man, welcome
No woman, welcome
Mmm, no woman, no
No woman, oh no
No woman, no
