

Fire And Ice

Bob Catley

You're burning hot tonight, she's got you going crazy
You feel the fever rise, senses alive
She shades the moonlight, she pales the light of day
She spins your world around, blinding you're eyes

It's just not fair, your fate is black
You're unaware as she attacks

Because she's fire and ice
This could be hell, it could be paradise
So close to heaven, every hour, every day
Not just to dream away
Fire and ice
This could be hell, it could be paradise
Oh, so close to heaven, gone yesterday
Not just to dream away

She's got a web of ice, from which there's no escaping
A place where he who dares, never returns
I tell you no lies, she'll blow your mind away
You think you're safe in there that's when you burn

The dangers there can never pass
This silken lair, this tender trap

Because she's fire and ice
This could be hell, it could be paradise
So close to heaven, every hour, every day
Not just to dream away
Fire and ice
This could be hell, it could be paradise
Oh, so close to heaven, gone yesterday
Not just to dream away, away...

Fire and ice
This could be hell, it could be paradise
So close to heaven, every hour, every day
Not just to dream away
Fire and ice
This could be hell, it could be paradise
Oh, so close to heaven, gone yesterday
Not just to dream away, away...

Fire and ice, hey!
This could be hell, it could be paradise
So close to heaven, every hour, every day
Not just to dream away
(I won't believe now)
Fire and ice
This could be hell, it could be paradise
So close to heaven, far beyond yesterday
Not just to dream away

Fire and ice
This could be hell, it could be paradise
So close to heaven, every hour, every day
Not just to dream away

Fire and ice
This could be hell, it could be paradise
Oh, so close to heaven, gone yesterday
Not just to dream away

Fire and ice
This could be hell, it could be paradise, ooh, yeah!
So close to heaven, every hour, every day
Not just to dream away

Fire and ice
This could be hell, it could be paradise
So close to heaven, far beyond yesterday
Not just to dream away
