

Heart of Stone

Bob Catley

Tell me how you hope to make amends
Does the mean justify the ends
You can't defend
Promises lay scattered all around
You kicked me even though I was down
Down on the ground

Truth is simple yes I know
Guess I'll just get up and go
Say you're sorry
It's too late
You played your cards and sealed your fate

I can't take it
I don't want your heart made of stone
So find another fool leave me alone
I don't need it I won't feed it
Breaking my bones
So find another fool leave me alone

Did you ever stop and think of me
To satisfy your inner vanity
Now I see
Hopeless from the start I should have known
Taken in by your heart made of stone
I'm not alone