

When The Earth Lies Still

Bob Catley

I heard the drums

On the day the moon chased shadows from the dawn my love
And I heard your voice when I kissed the words you write
And I wondered what has become of you

When the earth lies still
When this crazy world stops revolving
There'll be just you and I
When the earth lies still
Above the blood red skies we'll fly
And be together again once more
When the earth lies still

I saw your face
In a dreamless day the vision burns my eyes my love
And I'm still here to the oceans far and wide
I cannot hide my love for you

When the earth lies still
When this crazy world stops revolving
There'll be just you and I
When the earth lies still
And be together again once more
When the earth lies still

When the earth lies still
When this crazy world stops revolving
There'll be just you and I
When the earth lies still
And be together again once more
When the earth lies still

When the earth lies still
